

CDCR Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. Service

- A) Generate and sustain trust
Demonstrate respect, responsibility, fairness, and caring
Are consistent with good citizenship
- B) We work with our stakeholders as partners to support mutual understanding of ideas and open exploration of our differences.
- C) We serve and are responsible to the public. We value their trust and invite their involvement
Leadership
- D) Entitlement is a mindset that suggests, "We stick together and "We deserve special treatment

2. Principles

- A) members." According to CDCR, one of the four components of professionalism is .. "A spirit of _____ to the public."
- B) According to CDCR, one of the four components of professionalism is. "A code of _____ to the public." Service
- C) According to CDCR, one of the four components of professionalism is.. "A common set of, _____ and societal goals."
- D) Learning Objective 10: You will identify where to find the consequences for not reporting misconduct according to CDCR policy.

3. Assault and battery

- A) containment areas for suspected offenders who are awaiting trial or sentencing. These individuals are not necessarily guilty of any crime. Many jailed persons are eventually found not guilty of any crimes and ordered released by the courts.
- B) an individual who actually commits the crime, such as homicide, larceny, or fraud. In crimes that involve two or more principals, all of them assume the same legal liability.
- C) prisons are established for convicted felons. These institutions are maintained for both punishment and reform. Prisons have several security classifications (High, Medium, Low, Minimum) that typically corresponds to the seriousness of a convicted offenders' crime, their demonstration of intent and their capacity to harm others (such as inmates and correctional personnel) during incarceration.
- D) the crime of threatening a person together with the act of making physical contact with them.

4. Community Supervision terms:

- A) prisons are established for convicted felons. These institutions are maintained for both punishment and reform. Prisons have several security classifications (High, Medium, Low, Minimum) that typically corresponds to the seriousness of a convicted offenders' crime, their demonstration of intent and their capacity to harm others (such as inmates and correctional personnel) during incarceration.
- B) PAROLE
PROBATION
RECIDIVISM
- C) the crime of threatening a person together with the act of making physical contact with them.

D) Recidivism relates to convicted felons' return to their criminal ways. This phenomenon is not uncommon, considering factors like predisposition to violence, proclivity to break the law, and the external environment. Commonly, recidivists commit crimes against property (particularly theft and burglary) because they are challenged with limited prospects for employment and decent living conditions. Many recidivists are discriminated against due to their criminal history, and this is among outside factors that drive them to engage in illegal activity

Answers: 1-C 2-C 3-D 4-B

For More CDCR Questions and Answers FREE, CDCR Online Prep Training, CDCR Exam, CDCR Study Guide, CDCR Flashcards, CDCR Quizzes visit:

CDCR Practice Test

Practice Test Geeks © All Rights Reserved