

CNOR Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. Wound dehiscence is defined as:

- A) Separation of previously approximated wound layers
- B) Infection of a wound with purulent drainage
- C) Prolapse of abdominal organs through a wound opening
- D) Formation of excess scar tissue beyond the wound margin

2. The Nursing Practice Act is what?

- A) A Federal Law that is designed to protect the public from incompetent nursing caregivers
- B) It is a body of State law that mandates the State Nursing Board to set out the scope of practice and responsibilities for RNs in that state.
- C) is charged with tracking and investigating public health trends
- D) A detailed list of activities carried out by nurses during their daily work.

3. Primary intention wound healing occurs when:

- A) A wound is left open to granulate from the inside out
- B) Wound edges are approximated and secured with sutures, staples, or tissue adhesive
- C) A skin graft is applied over a large defect
- D) Healing occurs without any intervention

4. A Bovie scratch pad on the sterile field is used to:

- A) Absorb electrosurgical smoke plume
- B) Clean dried eschar from the active electrosurgical electrode tip
- C) Ground the patient during monopolar use
- D) Calibrate the ESU generator

Answers: 1-A 2-B 3-B 4-B

For More CNOR Questions and Answers FREE, CNOR Online Prep Training, CNOR Exam, CNOR Study Guide, CNOR Flashcards, CNOR Quizzes visit:

CNOR Practice Test