

DDS Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. Muscle that has been penetrated in IANB?

- A) All
- B) Medial pterygoid
- C) Buccinator
- D) Temporalis

2. The term 'torus mandibularis' refers to:

- A) An exostosis on the hard palate midline
- B) A benign bony exostosis on the lingual aspect of the mandible in the premolar region
- C) A reactive bone growth on the buccal alveolar ridge
- D) An osteoma of the mandibular condyle

3. Fordyce spots in the oral cavity represent:

- A) Ectopic sebaceous glands in the oral mucosa
- B) Accessory parotid gland tissue
- C) Early leukoplakia
- D) Lymphoid aggregates in the mucosa

4. A ferrule effect in crown preparation refers to:

- A) The use of a chamfer finish line to guide die-spacer application
- B) Encirclement of sound tooth structure above the cement margin by the crown walls
- C) The creation of a 1 mm shoulder preparation at the gingival finish line
- D) Using dual-cure cement to bond the crown to dentin

Answers: 1-C 2-B 3-A 4-B

For More DDS Questions and Answers FREE, DDS Online Prep Training,
DDS Exam, DDS Study Guide, DDS Flashcards, DDS Quizzes visit:

DDS Practice Test