

NPTE-PT Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. A positive Hoffman sign is indicative of:

- A) Upper motor neuron dysfunction in the upper extremity
- B) Lower motor neuron lesion
- C) Carpal tunnel syndrome
- D) Peripheral neuropathy

2. A deep tendon reflex graded 4+ with clonus indicates:

- A) Upper motor neuron lesion
- B) Lower motor neuron lesion
- C) Normal reflex
- D) Peripheral neuropathy

3. The Glasgow Coma Scale (GCS) assesses which three areas?

- A) Eye opening, verbal response, motor response
- B) Pupil reaction, vital signs, reflexes
- C) Orientation, memory, language
- D) Balance, coordination, sensation

4. Which cranial nerve is tested by assessing the gag reflex?

- A) Glossopharyngeal (CN IX) and Vagus (CN X)
- B) Trigeminal (CN V)
- C) Facial (CN VII)
- D) Hypoglossal (CN XII)

Answers: 1-A 2-A 3-A 4-A

For More NPTE-PT Questions and Answers FREE, NPTE-PT Online Prep Training, NPTE-PT Exam, NPTE-PT Study Guide, NPTE-PT Flashcards, NPTE-PT Quizzes visit:

NPTE-PT Practice Test