

PSP Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. Which of the following is an example of risk transfer?

- A) Implementing stronger access controls
- B) Purchasing insurance
- C) Discontinuing a risky operation
- D) Performing regular security audits

2. What is the primary purpose of conducting a risk assessment?

- A) To create security policies
- B) To prioritize risks based on their impact
- C) To eliminate all risks
- D) To implement security controls

3. In an alarm system, what does a 'supervisory circuit' monitor?

- A) The identity of personnel arming and disarming the system
- B) The integrity of wiring and sensors to detect tampering or sabotage
- C) The battery backup level of the control panel
- D) The response time of the monitoring center

4. What is the primary goal of asset protection in physical security?

- A) To safeguard people, property, and information from threats
- B) To increase operational efficiency
- C) To enhance customer satisfaction
- D) To monitor employee behavior

Answers: 1-B 2-B 3-B 4-A

For More PSP Questions and Answers FREE, PSP Online Prep Training,
PSP Exam, PSP Study Guide, PSP Flashcards, PSP Quizzes visit:

PSP Practice Test